Notes On The Growing Crops

KITCHENER WHEAT

Kitchener wheat is at the present making a splendid showing on the farm of Mr. George Lawson.

The soil on this farm is a sandy loam, and the field on which this grain is now growing is some forty two acres of summerfallow.

Seeding was done on April 29th.

June 28th, just sixty-one days later, the average height of the straw was twenty-eight inches.

RED BOBS

Red Bobs was sown on two acres of precisely similar land on May 5th—June 28th, fifty-five days later, this variety is standing an average height of eighteen inches.

RED FIFE

Red Fife, on twenty acres, in the same growing period is now standing at an average height of sixteen inches.

LEADER OATS

Leader Oats, sown May 12th, in a sixty acre field, of black sandy loam, on the farm of Alexander Wright, 8-30-44-27; were on June 28th, or forty-eight days later, have an average length of fifteen inches.

The above certified statements are of particular interest to our local farmers, and are also indicative of the splendid fertility of the soil in our district.

It is our intention to publish later details of these crops, for the information of the public.

We invite certified statements from other farmers, relating to the progress and results of their trials, of other grains, vegetables, fruits, or live stock.

Fall Rye On Ryall Farm

Fall rye six feet high is growing on the C. W. Ryall farm. It is heading out in great shape and promises an heavy yield.

This rye was seeded but four weeks before freeze up. It stood the winter in great shape. Earlier in the season it appeared as if there had been quite a piece winter-killed on the top of the knolls. The favorable growing weather has enabled the rye on the knoll-tops to recover fully.

Charles Ryall considers the last week in August or the first week in September as the best time to seed fall rye. This year he intends to seed his fall rye right behind the binder. The stubble holds the snow thus protecting the rye. On the other hand, Ryall has found the rye to be sufficiently vigorous to get ahead of the weeds in the spring growing season. In fact he informs us that this year's rye is growing strongest, where last year the weeds were the thickest and strongest.

Feed shortage will be a thing of the past when the farmers take to growing rye more extensively, Ryall tells us.

Edgerton Sports July 21

Edgerton Sports are announced to be held Wednesday July 21—Horse racing, bucking contests, $125 prizes for baseball, athletic events of all kinds, see the grand parade of decorated cars and vehicles. In fact all kinds of fun and enjoyment with lots of music. To conclude with a big dance a night.

Copies of the Chauvin Fair Prize List can now be obtained at Chronicle

Chauvin Sports Day Was Popular Event

Splendid weather favored the Chauvin Sports Day. There were, as predicted, large crowds in attendance. The crowd, whilst large, did not equal that of last year. Quite possibly because the record of last year was reached primarily because the sports day was the first public day on which we had the opportunity of honoring our returned man. (This year they are holding a picnic themselves on the anniversary of peace day July 19th.)

The holiday spirit was evident from right early in the day. Over two hundred cars passed through the village streets during the day. Hundreds of ladies, charmingly attired. In the background, the fields full of promise of an abundant harvest; and the pastures thickly grown over with grass. All combining in one harmonious whole—a sense of happy enjoyment.

From eleven o'clock on there was a steady stream of folks going to the sports ground.

The first event was, naturally, the opening game of the baseball tournament. Airlie, Provost and Wainwright teams having favored Chauvin by their challenges for the prizes offered. Some $125.00, divided with $100 as first prize and $25 for second prize.

Airlie, in giving battle to the Chauvin team put up a splendid showing. Chauvin, it is true drew first blood by scoring one in the first innings, but Airlie kept them down to that for the second and third innings, and equalled in the fourth. A greater vigor was then displayed by the home team who added six to their score in the next inning. Airlie undismayed fully recovered in the next inning and again tied. The final innings was one of keen contest by both teams and stirring to the spectators. The supporters of both teams being confident that their team was the winner. Both teams scored. But the joys of victory fell to the home team. The score being:—

Chauvin 1 0 0 0 6 0 2—9

Airlie 0 0 0 1 0 6 1—8

Airlie, though not enjoying victory, is certainly to be congratulated upon the excellent progress they have made during this, the first year of their being. We venture to predict great things from this team in the future.

The second game: Provost vs Wainwright: gave promise of being a real good show. We expected great things from both teams. In the case of Provost, we were perhaps too optimistic. (Continued on page four)

Peace Celebration Monday July 19th

Monday the 19th of July will be the first anniversary of "Peace Day" a year having elapsed since the signing of the "Peace Terms" by the Powers engaged in the greatest struggle the world has ever known. Fortunately for us Great Britain and her Allies emerged from the war victorious, but only at a terrible cost, a cost which can never be forgotten by the citizens of this great Dominion, as thousands of her bravest and best lie beneath the sod on Flanders Fields. While historians are busy recording deeds of bravery and self sacrifice that will inspire generations yet unborn. It is fitting that the anniversary of such a momentous day to the people of the world should be celebrated, and thanks to the members of The Great War Veterans Association we are to have the opportunity of getting together to celebrate and commemorate the great and glorious Victory of the Allied Powers, a victory in which the Canadian Soldiers covered themselves with undying fame. A splendid programme of military and civil sports has been arranged which will provide amusement for young and old, but the most undoubtedly be the unveiling of The Chauvin Roll of Honor, and surely this would be of sufficient interest to the citizens of Chauvin and District to guarantee their presence on the fair grounds on the 19th. If we appreciate the sacrifices of liberty, the boys who went overseas and fought for the preservation of liberty, we will show our appreciation by turning out in large numbers and making them feel that we are still behind them, and the best way to show our patriotism is to be present on the 19th, and after all it is not only our duty, but our privilege to have the opportunity.

Football Notes

AIRLIE vs. MANITOU LAKE

The above teams met in the first game of the draw on Sports day at Chauvin, July 7th.

Airlie kicked off but Manitou relieved and by some very good combination got the ball down to Airlie's goal and Jack Newstead had to handle.

Manitou continued to press and after twelve minutes play Billy Wright scored from a pass from right wing.

Airlie were much faster than Manitou but finished poorly. Five minutes before half-time Manitou handled in the penalty area and C. Mathieson scored from the penalty, the teams crossing over with the score one all.

Manitou kicked off and again showing fine combination took the ball up the field to score their second goal. Airlie then rushed the ball down twice but Lewis, Manitou's goalie, was as safe as a house and their backs were also playing a good game. Ten minutes from time another combined run was made by Manitou's forwards and they rushed the Airlie goalie for their third goal—the final score being:

Manitou—3

Airlie—1

Mathieson, Cargill, Art Pierce, Leon Smith and Jack Newstead were the pick of the Airlie team, but all the others worked very hard and with more practice and combination will be a much improved team.

For Manitou Lake Lewis in goal, Churchman Billy Wright and the outside right were very good and the combination of their forwards in the second half was a treat to watch.

A Legal Combine

The Green Meadow and Sulphur Springs U. F. A. Picnic held in the valley west of James Varty's farm was a complete success and an event to be remembered with satisfaction and pleasure by all who were privileged to attend.

The day was all that could be desired for comfort, though the threatening clouds were the cause of many anxious glances from sparkling eyes beneath the many pretty styles of millinery.

You would be lead to believe from the many beautiful costumes seen on the grounds, that these districts were money-makers; and, we guess, properly so.

The day owed much of its pleasure to the fact that the programme committee had been favored in securing the excellent U.F.A. Band from McCafferty, who were free with their appropriate and refined selections.

The baseball diamond was well patronized; the first game called with the Ribstone Base-Ball Fiends as visitors, and antagonists to the Green Meadow team.

We will not mention the score as we could not keep track, the game being too swift.

The childrens races were especially enjoyed by the children: parents and teachers and in fact by all, and these helped much also, in the excellent day of sport.

Just at the dinner hour (and just here we must say that the ladies of the Districts excelled themselves and all comers in their efforts at pleasing the appetites of the most exacting) the horse racers and broncho busters took the field, and did the high jumps and the arched bucks to the entire satisfaction of the spectators.

This year a bigger attendance than ever is expected.

Editorial

THE "IN-AND-OUT" SYSTEM

An obvious moral may be drawn from the present market prospects of hogs. It is that the "in-and-out" in breeding and feeding is usually the man who fails. Look at the facts a little.

Last fall prices for hogs dropped rapidly. Two of the causes for this were the condition of export markets and the high price of feed grains. So much American bacon had been purchased by the British Government under war contracts that, in the few months after the armistice there was an unprecedented glut in Great Britain. In addition, the British people, being relieved of the stern necessity of eating a class of bacon to which they had never before been accustomed, refused longer to buy it. The reduction of hogs undoubtedly was accelerated by the unprecedented rise in the domestic prices for feeds. Hundreds of hog raisers concluded it would be better to sell at any price rather than to carry over the winter. The combination of conditions resulted in a rush of hogs to the market. Prices went down naturally, because, while farmers were selling wildly, buyers were temporarily embarrassed with the stocks they had on hand.

To-day however, things have swung over. There is a scarcity of breeding sows throughout the Dominion. Young pigs are selling at high prices. Meanwhile the man who dropped out because he saw no immediate profit must today pay high prices for renewing his breeding stocks. Had he only had a longer faith last fall, he would have stayed in the game. He would not so readily have sold his breeding animals. He would have made a little temporary sacrifice to keep them over the winter and have been in the position to take full advantage of a rising market.

The quick change in hog prospects is only another proof of the shrewd observation that the producer of live stock who "stays in the game" in the unfavorable season, will be best able to recoup his losses and make good turn in the market comes.

But the real tragedy caused by the "in-and-out" is the way he destroys the markets. During a period of high production the packer extends his markets. He establishes a demand for the product of the farmer's animals. If during a period of temporary depression breeding stock is heavily disposed of, it causes great fluctuations in supply. This destroys the customer's confidence. If he cannot secure steady supplies from one source he must look elsewhere. Thus the "in-and-out" not only loses money himself but he becomes a seriously disturbing factor throughout the whole industry.

There is both virtue and profit in reasoned patience, especially in the livestock industry.

MORE AND BETTER WHEAT

At no time in the history of Canada has her wheat fields meant so much to the world as now. Canada produces wheat of the finest grades and in such large quantities as to place the Dominion well up among the wheat producing countries of the world. Both federal and provincial departments of agriculture have done their share in improving wheat varieties and extending the growth of this necessary cereal. An interesting account of the work that has been done is contained in the May number of The Agricultural Gazette, the official organ of the department of agriculture at Ottawa. It is there shown that the most widely grown varieties were developed by Canadian scientists. Preston, Stanley, Huron, Bishop, O.A.C. No. 104, Marquis, Ruby and Prelude have each their valuable factors. The history and characteristics of each are given. The Seed Branch, and the Department assists the Canadian Seed Growers Association in extending the crop competitions and seed fairs tests seeds for farmers and merchants, inspects seed on sale, and has through the Canadian Seed Purchasing Commission, ensured supplies of dependable seed wheat during recent years.

A mere man in Edmonton has solved the servant girl problem to his own satisfaction. He secured a divorce from his wife and married the cook.

Did you ever see such tarnation times in your life. First 'tis sugar short and coal shortage, money getting short, and then they come along and tell us the hay crop is going to be short and consequently, milk short, too. And skirts ain't getting a bit longer, judging by observations taken on Main street.

TWO IMPORTANT FACTORS

Speaking of the prospects for the approaching referendum, it has become almost trite to say, "The farmers are practically solid for prohibition, and as for the women, they can be counted on to vote overwhelmingly to stop the traffic in any shape or form." And the making of such a statement seems to beget such a feeling of assurance in the success of the vote from a prohibition standpoint that it has a very soothing effect on any feeling there may be as to the necessity of getting into the fight and putting some "punch" into the campaign. The implication seems to be that this assured majority obviates the necessity of much effort on the part of the prohibition party and that if they just "get busy" a little around the cities and a few other weak spots around the province and hold them down, the country can be trusted to take care of itself pretty largely, and give us all the majority that will be necessary.

But before people give themselves up to this idle, thoughtless kind of reasoning, there are a few other considerations that should not be entirely overlooked, and which may have a somewhat disturbing effect on this complacent mood.

Take the farmers first. The total number of qualified electors, including men and women, among the farmers of the province probably exceeds 50,000. The farmers' vote is therefore a decisive factor. But it is as manifestly impossible for the farmers as for any other citizen to cast an intelligent vote unless he clearly understands the issue. And the issue, in this case, is by no means self-evident; it needs explaining. And further, he is not likely to take the time and trouble to vote at all unless he is both instructed as to the issue and thoroughly aroused to realize how vitally important it is in all its bearings, and how much is at stake.

But even if he should be both informed and aroused, he is under the handicap this time of being called upon to go to the poll at a time when, in all probability he will have many good reasons for sticking to his harvesting or threshing, particularly following a late seeding season as this year.

The absolute necessity of an energetic campaign in all rural districts is perfectly obvious. Simply to say, "the farmers are with us" does not of itself assure anything. The statement is probably true, if they vote. But unless some very energetic effort is made to get them to the polls, some easy optimists are slated for a big disappointment.

Furthermore, the campaign in rural sections, to be effective, must be carried on before haying and harvesting get into full swing—during July and early August. If plans have not already been made, prohibitionists among the farmers, preachers of all denominations in rural sections, organizers or any one interested, should take hold and plan series of meetings in every section, and arrange for a wide-spread distribution of literature.

The situation with respect to the women is similar in many respects. It has been estimated that there are probably over 5,000 women who will be enfranchised by the new Franchise Bill. That a great majority of them will vote "dry," if they vote at all, seems reasonable to hope. But there is a serious doubt there too, so far as many of them are concerned.

Many of them are unaccustomed to voting, and might very naturally be somewhat timid about going to the polls. Duties in the home, office, store or factory will undoubtedly make it very difficult for many to get to the polls. And it is, if possible, more true regarding them than of the farmers, that they must be reached, roused and informed and induced to register their votes, even at much personal inconvenience. To do this will require a special campaign with features all its own, and this must be directed, for the most part by women. This was proved in the Ontario referendum.

This duty is "up to" Leaders in W. C.T.U., U.F.A., women's institutes, church and lodge organizations for women, and it is urgent that some one in every local community take the lead without further delay, and get the necessary organization set up to do this work.

These are vitally important factors and on the way they are dealt with depends more than on any other single factor, the success or failure of the campaign and certainly the size of the majority, and all the critical issues pending thereon.

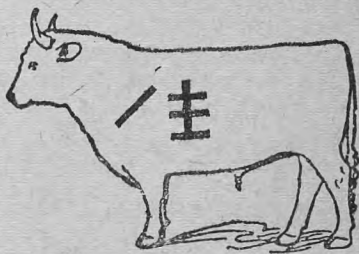

A Kodak is a necessity not a luxury. It is not necessary to buy a high priced Kodak to get pictures of the children while they are young. A $3.35 box camera does nicely, takes pictures 2 1-4 x 3 1-4.

Any one can do it, Your 5 year old child will learn to snap them. You bring the film to us when all are taken and you have no more bother with hours afterwards, and then the fun. Kodaks and films for sale by.

ALBERTA BONDS POPULAR

The sale of Alberta government baby bonds, under the new plan recently announced by the provincial treasurer, has already reached $95,000. This represents a rate of $3.50 per day, and the campaign is declared to be just getting under way.

Many of the purchasers of these changed provincial savings certificates for them, as was expected, a number of such purchases having come from outside points, including Manitoba, Wiconsin, and California. The department is doing some special bond sale, and it is expected that there will be an active demand for the new issue during the next few weeks.

In the meantime the sale of savings certificates is reported to be going on briskly. For the six months ending June 30 the total sales were $741,508, which exceeds by more than $100,000 the sales in any whole year previous.

in comparing corn and sunflower silage fed to milking cows. There were seven cows in the test. When fed on sunflowers they produced 300 pounds more of milk. Each cow gained 120 pounds more in weight than when fed corn silage over a period of 28 days. In making this good showing than corn in the silo, which would be a decided disadvantage where on sunflowers they only consumed 73 pounds more sunflower silage than corn, but took 18 pounds less grain.

In point of palatibility there would seem to be little to choose between the two kinds of silage. Sunflower was readily eaten at all times and apparently relished. Nor could it be said that sunflower was more laxative in its effect than corn, but with regard to its general effect on the system it was agreed that the advantage was quite decidedly in favor of sunflower. It was observed that the cows im proved in handling qualities, the hair became softer to touch and the skin more pliable, indicating more abundant secretion.

While it is realized that definite conclusions cannot be drawn from the results of one feeding trial that in order to determine the actual feeding value of sunflower as compared with corn silage; the work must be repeated several times and with different groups nevertheless sufficient information has been gathered to warrant the following conclusions:

1. Sunflower, when mature enough to the extent of the seeds being formed at the time of cutting, makes a very succulent, palatable and nutritious silage.
2. By reason of the excessive moisture which sunflower ensilage contains, it freezes to a greater extent where outdoor feeding is practised.
3. By reason, again, of its extreme succulence, sunflower packs more thoroughly in the silo and is, therefore, less liable to contain pockets of mould than is corn silage.
4. Dairy cows maintain their milk flow and body weight at least equally as well on sunflower silage as on corn silage.
5. In view of the difficulty of growing corn to maturity in some parts and whereas sunflowers can generally be matured and will withstand more frost it would seem to be a good policy to raise sunflowers for ensilage in localities effected by the above considerations.

A small boy came hurriedly down the street, and halted breathlessly in front of a stranger going in the same direction.

"Have you lost half a dollar?" he asked, with his hand in his pocket. "Y-es, yes, I believe I have!" said the stranger, feeling in his pockets. "Have you found one?" "Oh, no," said the small boy. "I just want to see how many have been lost to-day Yours makes fifty-four."

istic. Provost played a good game, and the spectators had something well worth watching. Wainwright, we may observe from their play, is a past master in generalship. Quite early in the game they were fully aware of both in the strength and weakness of their opponents and played accordingly. The game finishing overwhelmingly in favor of our visitors from the west.

Provost—5
Wainwright—15
Ribstone then took the field against Chauvin. They were not without hope of gaining, through this game, a standing in the final. Judging from experiences earlier in the season this hope was entirely reasonable. But Chauvin team has ever had the latent strength to meet the foe in the sterner conflicts, and on this day this capacity was beginning to be again evident. Right from the first innings the game belonged to Chauvin. Ribstone, we must say stuck well with the game, and the score by innings, shown below, is certainly less favorable to them than their play merits.

Ribstone 0 1 0 0 0 0—1
The battle royal for the big money was then staged by Wainwright and the home team. Many who in the forenoon were distinctly optimistic as to the home team were now frankly optimistic. Nor had they reason to lose their optimism until the game was in the final stage. Wainwright drew first blood in the second innings third. In the fourth Wainwright got away with two in their favor, increasing this by another in the fifth. The sixth innings was taken full advantage of by the home team and its close was marked by Chauvin leading with two runs to its favor.
The last inning was one of those thrilling episodes that make the game one to draw the large crowds of interested spectators. Chauvin, still having two runs in its favor, with two of their opponents men out and only one ball to pitch seemed already the winners. Siddal held the bat in readiness—it was now or never—his firm and steady nerve and skill was equal to the occasion. Far out flew the ball—Wainwright scored five more before the innings closed. Thus they won a well contested game with a good margin.

Wainwright 0 1 0 2 1 0 5—9
The various committees had done good work. The booth committee having an ample supply of goods for the public's refreshment; these goods being sold at the ordinary town prices. The town had been suitably bedecked with the charming poplar trees, native prairie growth.
The horse races, being run at the same time as a baseball match was in progress was not seen by such a number as last year. The lady riders showed considerable skill in the management of their horses, taking a full share of the prizes. The horses perhaps did not show the improvement in form that we might have looked for. Next year, however, we are promised a much keener bunch of horses.

Chauvin streets were again crowded at the close of the program of sports. Many old acquaintances being renewed: and new ones made.
With the somewhat tardy arrival of the Edgerton orchestra, the I.O.O.F. Hall was quickly filled to capacity by a merry throng of dancers, who kept things lively until well into the morning hours.
Among the visitors to the fair we noted many from Provost, Senlac, Edgerton, Wainwright, Artland, Marsden, Lilloyminster, and a thoroughly representative crowd of our rural citizens.
(We are compelled to leave some of our notes over to next issue) satisfaction and amusement of the big crowd watching events

Dinner over, the baseball teams again took the field, the Ribstone Fiends marching along with a serious look on their faces
It had been rumoured at the dinner table that Green Meadows' pretty girls were to root for the home boys, and some of the Fiends aforementioned foreseen trouble coming.
It came
But then as one of the Fiends put it, and as all the rest including the Umpire thought, "Such a sweet troupe of rooters would have coerced any team"
The sports concluded, the band gave "God Save the King" and the crowd began to leave. For Home? Oh No! They made a bee line for James Vary's barn
Arriving there the band had preceded them and the big frame structure with its dandy dancing floor, accommodating some scores of couples, was soon the scene of one of the prettiest, most enjoyable, and most successful evenings ever given in Eastern Alberta
In one portion of the floor an ice cream parlor. Across from this the Band Stand: and in the opposite direction, the ladies dressing room.
Everything that could be desired to make the happy assembly enjoy the evening to the fullest extent.
We will not mention any names as being particularly responsible for the brilliant success of the combined Picnic and Dance. Suffice it to say that the U.F.A. organizations in the two districts are directly responsible through the committees they wisely selected

SAFETY ON THE FARM

Accident prevention in industry is an accomplished fact and is being conducted with humanitarian and sound business principles. Accident and fire prevention are taught in the schools, on the streets and in the homes of the cities. It is not time though to teach accident prevention on the farm? It is said that nearly one-half of the accidents in this province happen to farmers and farm hands. Reports in the press point to accidents caused by chopping machinery. The farmer has as much right to demand safe working conditions as labor in factories and should insist that the manufacturer of farm machinery should guard all exposed gears and moving chains before selling the article. Other accidents are due to binders or mowers striking half-buried stones or short stumps hidden by the standing crop. After a serious accident from one of these causes the offending rock or stump will be removed, but the time to do that clearing is when the prospective accident maker is in plain view.
Then again we have the fire hazerd in the barn and the home. These are conditions that can be guarded against by ordinary precautions—the oil-stove can be kept clean; matches can be kept out of reach of children; hand fire extinguishers can be kept ready for instant use; lamps and lanterns can be placed that they are not likely to be knocked over. Fire losses and accident losses are a national calamity and for the good of the country should be reduced to the minimum, on the farm as well as elsewhere.

VEAL LOAF

Three pounds uncooked veal, 3-4 pound salt pork chopped fine, 1 cup rolled crackers, 2 eggs, well beaten, 2 teaspoons salt, 1 teaspoon pepper. Make into a loaf and bake 2 hours in a moderate oven.

SOUR CREAM PIE

1 cup sour cream
½ cup seeded raisins chopped fine
½ teaspoon of cinnamon
¼ teaspoon of cloves
A pinch of nutmeg
1 cup of sugar
Yolks of 3 eggs
White of 1 egg.
Bake like lemon custard, using the whites of two eggs for the top. Bake in an unbaked shell in a slow oven until custard is set, then beat the whites of the 2 eggs until stiff, and two tablespoons of sugar and spread on top after pie is baked, and brown in oven.

LEMON SHEBERT

1 pint lemon juice, ½ glass orange juice, 3 quarts water, 2 oz. gelatine Soak gelatine over night in ½ pint of water; in the morning add the rest of the water and let come to a boiling point. Strain fruit juice and add with 2 cups sugar, or sugar to taste, and freeze.

WALDORF SALAD

Mix an equal quantity of white celery and crisp tart apple cut into dice. Season with salt and pepper. Squeeze over the mixture the juice of a lemon and mix with any favorite salad dressing. Serve on lettuce leaves with chopped almonds or walnuts scattered on top.

MACEDOINE SALAD

Use any left-overs of cold cooked cauliflowers, peas and carrots,, cut in small cubes and the outer stalks of celery finely cut. Arrange peas and carrots in alternate piles in the centre of a salad dish. Pile the cauliflower on the top of these vegetables. Arrange the celery in four piles at equal distances. At the top of each pile place a small pickled cucumber, cut lengthwise in very thin slices, beginning at the blossom and cutting nearly at the stem end. Open the slices to represent a fan. Place a slice of tomato between each pile of celery.

Almost any cooked vegetables on hand may be used for a Macedoine salad, and, if care is taken in arrangement, they make a very attractive dish.

The Editor's Table

"I thought your town one of the prettiest I had ever seen on the prairies, when I first arrived," said a visitor to us, Chauvin Sports day. He expressed his disappointment on ascertaining that the trees had been just set in for the day.

"Why do you go to the trouble of setting out these trees each year, when it is so easy to grow trees?" said another, who thought the men in town should show a little more enterprise in this direction.

One hundred dollar strikes are not common. One was made in Chauvin the closing inning of the final game. A clear head and steady nerve are of value at all times, and on occasions such as this one, they become the deciding factor in the game.

"Good roads are wanted because bad roads and mud holes help to make living high. They make it costlier to bring food products to market and the higher cost is paid by the consumer," says a city newspaper. Maybe it is correct, but after living in this district fourteen years, we entertained the idea, that we paid for the lack of road and that we must also pay for our roads. It is really hard for us to perceive how our friend consumer pays.

The estimate is made that Western Canada will secure approximately $70,000,000 more for the 1919 wheat from the cashing of the participation certificates at 40c. per bushel. It is when we begin to figure on a basis of total wheat marketed, that we appreciate properly the significance of the Wheat Boards achievement. The only unfortunate feature of the situation is that so many farmers listened to those who told them that these certificates were worth little or nothing and sold them at anywhere from two cents to ten cents. The consequence is that speculators will make a fat killing at their expense.

Two pails: one worn out and the other in a leaky condition, is all that remains at the Chauvin fire hall, out of a stock of twenty-four pails. Maybe the sneak-thieves were stricken with honesty, upon seeing these two all-but-usless pails.

A great game is being played in Ireland but the Irish people are not the players, they are merely the pawns in the game. The real players on the Irish side are hidden. They are not in Ireland. This game has gone on for centuries and it will continue just so long as the Irish people will allow their blind hatred of England to make them easy tools for those who are interested in the destruction of England.

When quick and decisive action is wanted get the Members of Parliament voting for more money for themselves.

One form of speculation which cannot be curbed is speculation on when the price of stuff is to come down, and one luxury the luxury taxes can never touch is the luxury of doing without.

The new Mexican President declares there is more peace in Mexico now than for years. So that this continent would be wholly free from war with the United States would only end that dreadful war with Germany.

Editing A Newspaper

Editing a newspaper is a pleasant business—if you can stand it.

If it contains any advertisements, the subscribers claim they take too much space.

If there is a scarcity of advertising, it is unpopular, and the people won't have it.

If we attend church regularly, they say we do it for effect.

If we stay away from church they say we are monstrously heathenish.

If we accept an invitation to a wedding, they say we are invited to "write it up."

If we are on the streets too much, they say we neglect our business.

If we avoid going on the street, they say we don't hustle around after the news.

If we reject a long-winded communication, its author becomes furiously enraged and discontinues his paper.

If we publish lengthy communications, our subscribers say we lack discretion, and put it in to fill up.

If we omit to decorate our office window on Dominion Day, they say we lack enterprise and that there isn't a drop of patriotic blood in our degenerated carcass.

If we omit jokes, they say we are poor, miserable fossils.

If we are single they say we are too helpless to get married.

If we are married, they say it's a pity for our wives.

We are liable to receive these raps and many more, and we are always ready to receive visitors. Of course, we do not claim there is any work in running a newspaper. Everybody knows it's a snap.

Football Notes

NORTH END vs CHAUVIN

This was the second game of the draw, Chauvin kicking off with the wind and immediately making tracks for their opponents goal and testing the goalie. End to end play was the order of the game for ten minutes or so but eventually Chauvin raided the North End goal and the goalie was compelled to concede a corner from a shot from Mathot, Beatty took the corner and placed the ball in amongst his forwards, Mathot shooting and the ball striking the left back and glancing through the goal, chased in by Guthrie and giving the goalie no chance to save. Giggs at centre for North End was playing a good game "Happy" who was keeping him pretty well "bottled up" at centre. The teams crossed over Chauvin leading by one to nil.

In the second half although Chauvin had more of the game they seemed unable to score.

Harry Strachan in goal handled everything that came his way in a workmanlike manner whilst Forryan and Norman Strachan were as safe as a house at back. The forwards and halves pressed North End hard until time was called with the score

FINAL

MANITOU LAKE vs CHAUVIN

This, the final game of the tournament brought out some of the best football of the day.

In the first half ine side and then the other held the advantage but after 15 minutes play Chauvin raided Lewis's goal and in a melee in front of the goal the ball was rushed to save. From the kick off Manitou got through and tested H. Strachan but he got the ball away nicely and Chauvin were again round their opponents goal. The teams crossed over, Chauvin leading one to nil.

Manitou displayed several flashes of combination in the second half but all the Chauvin halves worked hard and broke Manitou's attack time after time and the backs rarely allowed Manitou's forwards past them. Chauvin although they pressed Lewis and his backs hard several times were unable to score again. The game

For the losers Lewis in goal was a tower of strength and both backs were really good. The forwards played a good combined game but the better condition of Chauvins forwards allowed them to finish the game in good shape. Happy had very hard luck in missing from a penalty for hands in the second half. Fitz did some real good work at half and "Red" Keatley was an eye opener at outside right after he got some assistance from Manitous left half, Red is still imbibing knowledge from the "seat" of learning.

By winning this game Chauvin won the tournament.

It was very gratifying to see Manitou turn out in full uniform and they are to be congratulated on putting up two such good games.

Several of the Chauvin team expressed the opinion after the final, that this was the best game they had joined in, this season.

Our Weekly Sermon
THE LEAVEN

Matt. 13:33—The Kingdom of Heaven is like unto leaven.

The Kingdom of Heaven is represented in two parables as subject to the law of growth. The mustard seed represents it as destined to increase in outward bulk as a visible society. The leaven teaches that the kingdom will show itself as a spiritual, moral influence effecting an inward change in the world.

The purpose of these parables is to inspire hope amid discouraging circumstances. It tells the disciples not to despair, because the kingdom which now seems so small and weak, will become a great and mighty power in the world.

The great Teacher draws attention to two points in connection with the spread of Christianity. He illustrates: First, the kind of change effected in the world. and, second, the method by which this change is wrought.

First, our Saviour teaches that He meant to effect a change in the spirit and character of things. As leaven alters the character of the meal, so His influence will change the character of society, not by revolutionary but by constructive methods. The change which he is to effect is of an inward kind. Change first the individuals, and then society, for society is composed of individuals.

Our Lord did not intend to erect a vast organization over-against the world, but He introduced into the world a leaven which should subdue all things to itself.

Secondly, the parable draws attention to the method by which the Kingdom of Heaven is to grow. It is to be the application of force. It is to be by moral suasion, or personal influence. The Holy Spirit does His work too, but Christ does not bring that point out here. The point He brings out is that He depends upon personal influence for the spread of His Kingdom.

This influence works through mixing i.e. through contact between those who are and those who are not His followers. He mixed with publicans and sinners, Pharisees and Saducees. We must mingle with all kinds of people in business, and society. The question is, can we be true to our Master in so doing?

Should we ever refuse to mingle with people? Not as a rule. Many would never know the spirit of Christianity unless they saw it in their fellow men. The important question is. What am I to do that the Kingdom may extend? The answer is "Be a Christian" The true method of doing good is to be good—to have a character that will communicate good.

"The whole will be leavened" is encouraging. The spirit of Christ will pervade all things by and by. We can see this is being fulfilled, if we study conditions in China, India and, in fact the non-christian world.

STILL HE WONDERED

One of these physicians at a popular winter health resort was looking over his books one day, comparing his list of patients. "I had a great many more patients last year than I have this," he remarked to his wife. "I wonder where they have all gone?"

"Well never mind, dear," she replied. "you know all we can do is to hope for the best."
